We have translated our 300 man years of cumulative consulting experience across Information Management space to this 2 days intensive programme on Data Stewardship. It will prepare the participants with all necessary knowledge of the subject, provide actionable templates, case studies and best practices with a view to enable them to run or contribute to their own Data Governance programme.

The Data Stewardship programme is also delivered as a bespoke training and implementation service at the client's premises over a fixed duration for a fixed charge.

Our USP

- Run by Industry practitioners
- Delivery of a customized implementation plan
- Best practices supported by real world case studies
- ROI – cost saving to the tune of 20%

“A well presented and thought-through course, with practical case studies and implementation templates which greatly helped us to jump start our Data Governance programme.”

Course Overview

The Data Stewards play a very important role in any organization's information management programme directly or indirectly supporting its business strategy. This role is even more important in the context of any compliance programme like Solvency II, which lays special emphasis on the accuracy, integrity and appropriateness of data together with the governance requirements across the whole information supply chain.

This 2 day intensive course is divided between theory and practice with a bias towards practical implementation aspects, the organization structure; the methodology supported by case studies, best practices and facilitated workshops.

Course Objective

The participants will acquire necessary knowledge and practical skills to play the role of an effective data steward within his/her organization and contribute to the success of any change programme particularly any "data" enabled change programme.

Participants will be provided with ready templates, reference booklet and access to knowledge base for constituting and running their own Data Stewardship programme.

Who is it for?

- Business users
- Business analysts
- Business team from compliance initiative (like Solvency II/Basel)
- Information management professionals

Data Stewardship course provided an exceptional value to my organisation - I am sure it can significantly reduce the cost of any change programme.
